Toastmasters Club Knows About 'Purple People Eaters'

What are the advantages of being a purple people eater?

Imagine yourself being in the position of having to answer that question, and having to answer it for two minutes—no more, no less. That's the sort of position the members of the Toastmaster's Club find themselves in each week.

Each member must make a two-minute speech on a topic that is handed them shortly before the speech is to begin. Mostly, the subjects are not so far-fetched as the purple people-eater question, yet they all require a bit of thinking.

The objectives of the Toastmasters Club, according to Bob Wear, president of the newly-organized club are bound up in self improvement. Through the program of the organization, the members are helped to learn how to speak effectively, think on their feet, preside at meetings in accordance with parliamentary procedure and feel at ease while expressing an opinion before people.

In the topic session Monday night, Bob Lindsey explained why he thinks the speed limits on our highways should be increased, and suggested that a minimum speed limit of about 40 miles an hour should be added and enforced.

Mike Morris was forced to tell why he likes or dislikes sack dresese, and quite successfully ducked giving a direct answer—instead he mentioned that women who have less than a spectacular figure might welcome the style while husbands who have to foot the bills might not.

Jerry LaGrone was asked if he thinks the atomic and hydrogen bombs will be outlawed in the event of another world war. His answer was that the weapons would be outlawed, but that they would be used by the Communist countries before they would suffer a defeat.

Bob Wilkinson said that he believes that the American people are living beyond their means, and probably because of the ease in buying things on a low down-payment, long-term payout plans. He suggested that if the American people would cut some of the expenditures for luxury items and apply the money to education. we might be able to develop means that would make the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs useless.

T. F. McKinney was asked how the economy could be stabilized, and successfully evaded giving an answer by talking about how people have been seeking economic comfort since pre-historic times.

Dr. C. R. Nester predicted the Milwaukee Braves would win the world series because New York has air polluted by factories and dense population while Milwaukee is closer to green fields, clean air and the "famous Milwaukee product called 'X'—JAX." Dr. Nester jokingly said that if the Yankees had the same opportunities and "intakes" they might win.

R. W. McNeill told of his favorite hobby, hunting. and explained one of his deer hunting trips.

Hampton Lisle was put on the spot when he was asked if the Democrats will succeed in winning the next presidential election. His opinion was that the Democratic convention will become a fight between localities, and that the convention will not nominate a man who can win the election.

Lt. Col. E. L. Lindsey said that from the standpoint of international law Red China should be seated in the United Nations and should have been recognized a number of years ago.

Asked if traffic fines are just or should they be more severe, Walter King said he is not too well qualified to answer. He said he had never paid a fine, but has the feeling that the fines are just and should be more severe on a progressive basis, with higher fines for successive convictions.

What about the purple people eaters? Don Duncan was stuck with the question, and to answer it he invented a world-wide movement that is not a fad but a thing that has come to stay. He predicted that purple people eaters would one day rule the world, and that purple people eaters had the present advantage of being invited out for coffee and getting free football tickets.

In the business session, other officers elected were Col. Lindsey, education vice president; Dr. Nester, administrative vice president; Lisle, secretary; Morris, treasurer; and Guy Knowles, sergeant-at-arms.

Knowles was topic master for the night. Another charter member who was unable to be present was Dr. Lee Johnson. Visiting the club was Bill Densford of Amarillo, district lieutenant governor.

The club will have a visitors night on Oct. 6 when a demonstration of an actual meeting will be given by members of other clubs in the area. Anyone interested in joining Toastmasters may do so by contacting any of the members or officers.

Highway 60 Plan Sent To Austin

Plans for construction of Highway 60 as a divided highway have been sent to Austin for approval, district highway engineer Chili Smith told the Randall County Commissioners Court in a letter Monday.

The letter said the contracts will be let on Nov. 12 or 13 provided all the right of way has been cleared by then. All the right of way has either been purchased, or ordered for condemnation suits, the court said.

Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair told the court that the nine suits are ready for trial, and can be called as soon as next week's session of district court is over.

He estimated that the suits will all be tried before condemnation commissions by the first of November.

In other action, the court refused permission to re-advertise for bids for special shelving in the county clerk's office. Bids were asked earlier this summer on the shelving, and a contract was awarded to General Office Supply.

Auditor E. T. Cummings said a salesman for the company said the supplier of the shelves refused to supply them at that price. Cummings suggested that the court might re-advertise.

The opinion of the court was summed up by commissioner Clarence Beckman who said there is no use to take bids if the winners can't be held to their contracts.

Plan Reception Tuesday at WT

West Texas State College's student body will be honored here Tuesday night by faculty members at the annual reception given to open the school year.

The affair will be a "come and go" reception, from 8 until 10 p. m. in the Cousins Hall lounges, according to W. Mitchell Jones, dean of men, who heads a committee which arranges the reception.

It will be semi-formal, which Dean Jones said "means that students will be dressy." A dance will also be held at the same time in the Student Union Building.

Receiving will be President and Mrs. James P. Cornette, Dean and Mrs. Walter H. Juniper, Graduate Dean and Mrs. James L. Russell, and chairmen of the college's divisions and their wives. Also invited for the reception will be the two local members of the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Coleges, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Stovall of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears of Hereford.

Division chairmen include Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Busteed, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Callarman, Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Knott, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Coffee.

Kickoff Runback Predicts Final Outcome of Buffalo-VPI Game

The first play predicted the outcome of the West Texas State-VPI game Saturday night in Roanoke, Va. Final score was 28-12 for Virginia Tech.

On the opening kickoff, halfback Jay Whitsell gathered in the ball on his own 11 and raced 89 yards for a touchdown. The Gobblers were ahead from then on.

West Texas State came back with a time-eating, yardage chopping drive from the 12 to a touchdown that took some 11½ minutes and 23 plays. Bob Ratliff made the touchdown.

In the second quarter, West Texas was forced to punt from their own nine, and the Gobblers scored from the WT 33. Quarterback Billy Holsclaw hit end Carroll Dale on a pass for the second touchdown.

Later in the quarter, another Holsclaw pass set up the third VPI touchdown. The pass to end Ken Byrd went to the WT 2, and Pat Henry made the score.

In the third quarter, a fumble gave VPI the ball on the WT 42. They toted the ball down to the six in a series of plays, then Holsclaw rolled out right and cut back across tackle for the touchdown. Holsclaw passed to Byrd for two more points.

Later in the third, Nick Mihalas bounded through the WT line to spill Bobby Davis in the end zone for another two points, a safety.

In the fourth quarter, WT took over the ball on downs on the WT 44. A series of runs and passes put the ball on the VPI 2, and Ratliff bulled over to make the final score.

VPI picked up 18 first downs to 14 for WT, 212 yards rushing to 104 and 179 yards passing to 71.

Parish Will Hold Chicken Dinner

A chicken dinner will be sponsored by St. Ann's Parish Oct. 19 in the V.F.W. Hall, north of town.

Plans for the event were made at the first fall meeting of St. Ann's Altar Society in the rectory Sept. 19. Mrs. Tony Simon and Mrs. J. L. Irlbeck were appointed dinner chairmen to complete plans.

Tickets for the dinner will be adults, $1.50; children, 75 cents; and pre-school children, free. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Altar Society.

In other action, the group selected committee officers for the remainder of the fiscal year. Appointed were Mrs. J. H. Dietz, public relations; Mrs. Ed Szydloski, church cleaning, and Mrs. Elmer Cranmer, chairman of the committee for visiting the ill.

Calvary Baptist Schedules Revival

An eight-day youth-led revival begins at the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church, 605 Fourth Avenue. Leading the revival will be the Rev. Bob Ross, a senior at Oklahoma Baptist University and pastor of the Round Grove, Okla., Baptist Church.

The revival will end Oct. 5, when members will try to reach a record attendance of 200 in Sunday School.

The Rev. Ross began conducting revivals when he was a sophomore in high school and began serving as pastor of the Round Grove Church when he was a senior in high school.

Breakfast will be served at the church at 6:30 a. m. each morning, followed by a brief service. Evening services will begin at 8 p. m., except for the Oct. 5 service, which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Perryton Eleven Smashes Eagles

The powerful Perryton Rangers brought the Canyon Eagles' two-game winning streak to a sudden halt Friday night in Buffalo Stadium, winning the non-district game by a score of 32-6.

The Rangers displayed their power early in the game, scoring first, then proceeded to capitalize on every Eagle miscue throughtout the game. Perryton scored twice in the first quarter, once in the second, once in the third and once in the fourth.

The lone Canyon score came in the fourth quarter on a pass from Jerry Richardson to Larry Brotherton, good for six yards.

Perryton's might was felt when the two teams had exchanged punts after the opening kickoff, and the Rangers got possession on the Canyon 46. In 10 plays, second-string quarterback Danny Pletcher scooted around right end for five yards for the first touchdown.

Keith Shaffer kicked the extra point to give Perryton a 7-0 lead when 4:40 was left in the first quarter.

The tow teams played out the quarter, and Perryton started off on another drive from their own 20. They were finally stopped on the Canyon 20 and the ball went over on downs. The Eagles were not able to do much and kicked.

Canyon intercepted a pass on the Canyon 48 and returned it to the Perryton 27 on the first play, and steadily lost yardage. The ball was on the Perryton 33 when the Eagles lost possession on downs.

The Rangers began driving to the Canyon 40, when the ball was lost on a fumble. They regained possession in two plays, however, by intercepting a pass from Richardson on the Perryton 45 and running it back to the 47.

The Rangers capitalized in a drive in five plays. The key to the drive was a 26-yard pass from Stewart Johnson to Shaffer. Earl McKinley ran the last nine yards for the touchdown with only 28 seconds left in the half. Shaffer's kick was good and the halftime score was 20-0.

The Eagles got the second half kickoff, but punted on fourth down to the Canyon 41. It was returned to the 38, and it looked like Perry-

Predict College Enrollment at 2,150 When Registration Closes

Enrollment for the final semester at West Texas State College should be 2,150 when registration officially closes here Oct. 1, President James P. Cornette estimated Tuesday.

At the end of the sixth day of registration Monday 2,121 persons had started enrolling, and 2,013 had completed registering, Dr. Cornette said. At the same time a year ago, 1,940 had started and 1,853 had completed enrolling.

Final enrollment last fall was 1,984 on the campus in Canyon, and 1,209 part time students in the evening program at the Amarillo Center.

A total of 1,064 had completed enrollment at the close of registration Monday night at Amarillo Center, compared with 910 at the same time last year. By the time registration at the Center is completed, it is estimated that 1,350 will be enrolled for evening work.

Dr. Cornette said the total for both the Canyon campus and the Amarillo Center would be about 3,500 with about 300 of these duplicated by having enrolled at both campuses.

From the standpoint of full-time students, enrollment should be up about 10 per cent over last fall, Dr. Cornette said. Full-time equivalents are determined by the number of persons taking the full load of 15 semester hours.

City Championship Tourney Announced

The annual city championship golf tounament is scheduled for the first three Sundays in October at the Canyon City Club, with all golfers welcome to enter.

Qualifying rounds will be played Saturday and Sunday, and the tournament will be played Oct. 5, 12 and 19. Entry fee for the tournament is $3.

Raillard Services Held in Dalhart

Funeral services for Marion Forrest Railard, a brother of Raymond Raillard, were held in the Pine Street Methodist Church in Dalhart at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The Rev. L. B. Taylor, pastor, officiated at the services for Mr. Raillard, 50, who died at 10:45 a. m. Thursday in an Abilene hospital. He had lived in Abilene for the past 10 years, going there from Dalhart where he was born in 1908.

Pallbearers were Neal Hutton, Joe Young, Russell Porter, Holwell McCleskey, E. F. States and Ainsworth Hills. Interment was in Memorial Park at Dalhart under the direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Canyon.

Buffs To Try For Third Win

A crippled West Texas State team will attempt to defy the record books Saturday night when it meets Texas Tech in a football game at Lubbock.

Coach Clark Jarnagin's charges, hobbling after taking a 28-12 licking from Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference Saturday, will try for their third straight victory over Texas Tech—a feat never before accomplished.

The Buffs don't have the depth they had in 1956 and '57, when they registered 34-14 and 19-0 wins over the Southwest Conference neighbor to the south.

While West Texas was dropping its season inaugural, the Red Raiders upset Texas A&M, 15-14, and undoubtedly will be the odds-on choice to defeat the Buffaloes. A special "Buffalo" train will take 500 fans to Lubbock for the 23rd renewal of this rivalry.

Three starters are expected to be completely or partially out of action for the Buffs Saturday. Center Carroll Stafford, 200-pound Amarillo center who missed the opener with a broken foot, will get the cast off this week but probably won't be in shape.

Charles Denney, 175-pound right halfback from Whitharral, twisted a knee early in the Virginia Tech game and is expected to be on the sidelines for a week or so. Leon Manley, 215-pound Abernathy guard, injured a hip against the Gobblers and may see only limited action against the Raiders.

"We just took a good country licking," says Coach Jarnagin about the loss to the strong Virginia club. "They whipped us on the line of scrimmage and our tackling and blocking was very poor."

Bob "Red Dog" Ratliff was the only bright light in the Buff offense. The 210-pound senior fullback scored both Buff touchdowns and gained 54 yards rushing. After the first quarter ended 6-6, the Gobblers went on to lead 18-6 at the half and 28-6 at the end of three periods.

Music Students Organize Group

About 50 former music students of West Texas State College will meet here Saturday at a luncheon to organize a new division of the WT Ex-Students Association.

The group, to be called "West Texas Music Alumni," expect to adopt a constitution, elect officers and conduct other business to get underway as an active section of the ex-students association.

Set at 12:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria, the meeting will be conducted by Roy Lowe of Dimmitt, as master of ceremonies. Invocation will be given by Jane Collins of Amarillo, and a welcome will be made by Dr. Ted Crager, head of the WT music department.

Responding to the welcome will be John Butler of Tulia, and talks will be made by Dr. Houston Bright, associate professor of music, and Milton "Buff" Moris, executive secretaryof the WT Ex-Student Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham returned Monday after accompanying their daughter, Billie, to Columbia University in New York City, where she enrolled to work on her master's degree. Mr. and Mrs. Graham also visited in Philadelphia with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Packer. Mrs. Packer is the former Mabel Graham.

Eagles Travel to Dumas Friday

In another inter - conference match, the Canyon Eagles of District 1-AA will meet the Dumas Demons of District 1-AAA Friday night in Dumas.

Tickets for the game will not be on sale in Canyon. School officials in Dumas said a section of the stands will be reserved for Canyon fans, and tickets will be on sale at the gates. The game begins at 8 p. m.

Dumas has had two wins this season, against Cathedral High of El Paso and Dalhart. The Cathedral score was 26-6 and the Dalhart score was 36-0.

In the Dalhart game last week the Dumas touchdowns came from three runs, a pass and an intercepted pass runback of 65 yards. The running touchdowns were by James Boyd, 12 yards, Buinton Eppinette, 1 yard, and Bud White, 1 yard. The pass was three yards from White to Kenneth Keeney. Keeney made the runback.

The probable starting lineup includes Jim Tindle, 165, quarterback, No. 10; Quinton Eppinette, 170, quarterback-fullback, No. 30; Bud White, 160, right half, No. 22; James Boyd, 165, left half, No. 40; Royce Williams, 180, end, No. 82; Bill Smith, 175, end, No. 85; James Walton, 210, tackle, No. 72; Gordon Baily, 220, tackle, No. 74; Dennis Ownes, 180, guard, No. 63; Jim Watson, 180, guard, No. 61; Joe Horn, 170, center, No. 52.

In previous games, the Dumas running attack has been around ends and across center, mostly.

Three Canyon players were injured in last Friday's game, but all three will be able to play this week. Eddie Boydstun and Tommy Henderson suffered bruised ribs, and Jerry Parker suffered a knee injury.

Davis is planning a number of shifts in playing personnel, but the plans may not jell before the last workout before the Dumas game.

Flavor of Smallness

Canyon is a growing city that has retained the flavor of a small town in many instances. And the flavor of a small is good to hold, because that attraction is conducive to more gracious living.

But there's one flavor that we think Canyon would be well rid of. It's a smoky flavor that certainly doesn't have the odor or taste of smoldering hickory.

It's the smoke that belches from the monster incenerator owned by Randall County and parked on the east side of the square. Why must we put up with it?

We realize that the city trash pickup service is not always the most efficient, especialy in the residential section. And we aso realize the reasons why that is true.

But the county doesn't use the service. Instead, the steel contraption is poked full of papers. A match is put to the contents, and there comes the smoke to blow willy-nilly on the wind. On days of high humidity, the smoke lays close to the ground and nearly obscures the sun at times.

If farmers here grew lots of cotton, and gins ringed the town, we could see some excuse for whitish, sickening trash smoke blowing around during the fall. But not year around.

And that's what we have on the square.

Why can't Randall County use the city's trash pickup service? Or, maybe it would be better for a county truck to pick up the courthouse trash every day or so.

We've heard one excuse why it can't be done. It is that the various officials must burn certain records at certain intervals. The statutes don't allow for discarding without burning.

But we can't see how an annual or semi-annual burning of records should require a stinking incenerator on the courthouse lawn. Canyon is not that small, is it?

Concert Campaign

In the next few days, the annual Canyon Community Concert Association drive for memberships will get underway. The drive will be handled a little differently this year. Workers will begin a week early with the idea of securing renewals before the drive proper begins.

The emphasis during the drive will be on new memberships. During registration at the college, a booth was set up to allow students to obtain memberships easily.

The association has picked a fine season opener, one that should have wide appeal. A combination of an exceptional baritone accompanied by a symphony orchestra and a program of good music by the orchestra would have a hard time missing the likes of everyone.

While Canyon often has a surfeit of entertainment, and it's hard to find time to take advantage of it, we seldom have top-quality professional artists. Our amateur artists at the college and high schools do a fine job, but their best cannot be expected to continually reach the level of professionals.

And that's the void the concert association tries to fill. The plan is simple. Memberships are sold, and the amount of money raised is used to book artists. Admission is restricted to members, and no tickets to single performances are sold. The association plans at least three concerts, and if enough money comes in, there are to be four.

If you have been a member in previous years, watch for a worker to visit you soon. If you have not been a member, workers will be around during the first week of October.

Support the association, not for the sake of the association but for your own entertainment and benefit.

Turnabout

We see where Denison High School plans to recognize a generally unseen facet of student life with varsity letters. Varsity letters are usually reserved for athletes, and more recently for band and chorus members. The letters have usually gone for extra-curricular activities.

And now Denison will recognize scholarship with letters and sweaters. Those students who gain fine grades will have a public acknowledgement of their work, just as good athletes get public aclaim.

So long as the school reserves the letters for those who are exceptional, and doesn't give them out for effort without achievement, we can't see why the plan cannot become a goal for students to work toward.

Hooray for Denison. Let's hope the plan helps return the minds of the students to the main purpose of schools—scholarship.

Collegiate Effect

Who can doubt the effort of West Texas State College in Canyon after observing the pickup in activity when the fall semester begins?

From a slow, easy-going community, Canyon suddenly pops into a vigorous city with cars whizzing every which way, young people all over the place, and an air of excitement in the background.

The practice of requiring freshmen to wear green caps should have the same effect of proof that an industrial payroll of $2 bills has.

The work that the people of Canyon can do to promote the growth and development of West Texas State will be repaid in fantastic multiples in the future. And Canyon's future would be slim without the college.

Adams Going Out?

The powers in Washington must have figured that the Sherman Adams mess didn't really matter to the people of the nation. At least it looks that way.

Since losing the election in Maine, the Republicans have been busy working to get Adams out of the White House. They lay the blame for the defeat on Adams.

And that goes to show the difference between morality and political expediency. If morality was the issue, Adams would have been sacked a long time ago.

Scissor Snippings

Gene Alford in the Moore County News: One doesn't have to look far to see other signs of changing times. Have you flipped through one of those mail gift catalogues lately? Some of those gimmicks really give an insight into the harder-to-please nature of the buying public.

Everything is designed to make living just a little lazier. With a money-back guarantee order you can buy such daily household necessities as spare paper bag organizers, automatic radish cutters, palm-size electric washboards, lubricant to free jammed zippers, ceramic tape dispensers, magnetic hair pin cups, purse-size police alarms, personalized gold or silver toothpicks . . . to mention a few.

Three cheers for America, where if you'll buy it. . . .we'll sell it!

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: We've been reading too much lately in some of our area newspapers about "Conservatives" as pertaining to Texas Democrats, with the unsavory connotation that there must be something rotten about them.

The Herald editor considers himself a conservative, and makes no bones about it.

In older, more simple days, the term "Liberal" meant someone who believed in liberty, who wanted to be free, to live their own lives and keep what they earned. Liberals were for the common man, united in a common front against tycoons who exploited the little man.

Nowadays the Liberals are primarily liberal with other people's money, the rights of the states, and are for increasing the power of the federal government.

Today's Conservatives, as we define the term, want to conserve what they earn, retain the rights of the states, and preserve the Constitution. They also want to preserve the credit of the United States and the value of the dollar. Conservatives are against big government just as much as big business or labor or big anything.

Maybe the Conservatives are out of step. Maybe we are doomed to be a nation hog-tied by the Big 3 of Labor, Government, Business. But the least we can do is to wiggle while the hook is inserted.

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: A Dallas woman traveled to a downstate city recently to enroll her daughter in a Catholic boarding school. The daughter found out quickly, the painful way, that she had to take a lot of inoculations that weren't required in public school.

Later, while the lady talked with the school authorities, the daughter got into conversation with another little girl. She came back to announce: "They have something down here that I ddin't get a shot for."

"What?" asked the mother.

"Demerits."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Although I lived in Tennessee for 10 years — (grew up in Memphis), I had never been in Nashville until this summer.

One of the first places I visited was the Maxwell House. It was the political center of the State in my boyhood — so I had breakfast there, in the quiet, restful coffee shop. (Guess what kind of coffee I had?) The price was a delightful surprise: an egg, ham, three biscuits, butter, jelly and two cups of coffee—60 cents.

I sat in the lobby and reveled in thoughts of the history of the famous old hostelry, construction of which began in 1859. (The unfinished building was used by the Confederates and the Federals as a barracks and as a prison.)

Tradition says that Col. John Overton was riding by, "before the War," saw an auction in progress and the auctioneer waved in the direction of a cow that was tied to a stump. The colonel called out, "Fifteen dollars," and rode on. Later, he learned that he was the high bidder — but, instead of the cow, he had bought the lot. It was on this site that the Maxwell House was built.

The lobby is conducive to meditation. It is rather dimly lighted; there are big columns; the floor is marble, of ancient gray, fringed with pink stone; a broad stairway has a balustrade with a huge knob which is half a globe, of glistening stone.

In a red leather chair with a high back, I sat and thought about the statesmen who had stood in the lobby, talking to a circle of admirers; and the banquets they had addressed; and the rooms, smoke-filled of course, where conferences of leaders meant the realization of some man's ambition to become governor or United States Senator — or the shattering of such a dream.

But suddenly there was a burst of activity and the "gallery" encircling the lobby was filled with a hundred lads, talking and laughing as they emerged from a State Future Farmer breakfast.

And maybe it is just as well that one should keep in touch with the reality of the present and not become completely lost in the shadows of the past.

Increased wheat yield 24 bushels per acre

Leon Billingsley, successful High Plains farmer, says: "I applied 100 pounds per acre of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant to my irrigated wheat and increased my yield from 18 bushels to 42 bushels per acre. I figure my net profit increase to be around $40 per acre."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields . . . and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Farmer Degree To Jack Campbell

Jack Campbell, Canyon, is one of 34 Future Farmers of America members of Texas who will be recommended to receive the organization's highest degree, that of American Farmer, at the 31st annual national convention of FFA in Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13-16.

George Hurt of Austin, state director of Agricultural Education, reported last week he has received information from FFA headquarters in Washington, D. C., stating that the Board of Student Officers and Board of Directors of the national organization have reviewed the Texas applications and will recommend to the delegates at the convention that the 34 boys receive the coveted degree.

Approval by these boards usually is tantamount to election by the delegates.

Presentation of the degrees will take place in the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City during the convention session on the afternoon of Oct. 14. Each degree winner will receive a certificate and gold key from the FFA organization, plus a cash travel allowance from the Future Farmers of America Foundation, Inc., and the Texas Association.

Attainment of the American Farmer degree is based on the Future Farmer's record in farming, leadership and scholarship. The degree is limited to FFA members who have been out of high school at least one year and who are showing evidence of becoming successfully established in farming.

Announcement of Star Farmer awards will be made during the evening session of the convention on Oct. 14. One Future Farmer who is most outstanding of the degree winners will be named Star Farmer of America and will receive a $1,000 cash award. Three others will receive Regional Star Farmer awards of $500 each.

Mrs. George Hand Hosts Westside HD

Mrs. George Hand was hostess for the Westside Home Demonstration Club Sept. 17. Meat recipes were given for the program, "Getting the Most from Dollars Spent for Meats."

Three delegates, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. Marion Williams and Mrs. Dick Barrett, gave a skit on their trip to the Texas Home Demonstration Association convention in Austin in August.

Sixteen members and two visitors were served.

The club met Sept. 3 in the Lewis Harvey home. Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on the basic dress pattern and discussed new styles and fabrics.

Next meeting will be Oct. 1 in the J. T. Brown home.

Hardly anyone gets a corner on Life's little bonuses. Some folks, it's true, are luckier than others. But up one hill and down another, Life has a pretty good system of checks and balances.

Had you ever stopped to consider . . .

That the abundant crop of early fall insects doesn't come in the same season as frost bite and frozen radiators?

That some television programs are corny, but nobody makes us listen?

That healthy, normal babies cry only about one-tenth as much as they laugh?

That getting old is disturbing, but being a grandparent is a heap more fun than parenthood?

That the lovely slender figures we envy are almost always paid for by constant self-denial at the refreshment table?

That the average American wife can't afford mink wraps and jewels, but as a rule, she needn't be afraid of house breakers either?

That single blessedness is sometimes lonely, but at least the lone critter makes her own decisions?

That being a carefree youngster is wonderful, but every one of them still has to pass geometry?

That summer freedom from schedule is more fun for its briefness?

And while we aren't all as glamorous as Hollywood queens, we don't live next door to one either?

Married In Double Ring Ceremony

☆ ☆ ☆ MRS. CLAY KEMPER PERKINS ☆ ☆ ☆

Neblett-Perkins Exchange Vows Saturday in Presbyterian Church

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the marriage of Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander Neblett of Canyon, and Clay Kemper Perkins of San Diego, Calif. The double ring service was read by the Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks, director of religious education at the Westminister Presbyterian Church in Amarillo.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clay Perkins of Austin.

The candlelight ceremony was performed before a satin-draped altar marked with tiered garlands of smilax. Tall pedestal urns, filled with bronze chrysanthemums, were flanked by matching arrangements of the mums. A massive pyramid of candles holding voltive lights centered the choir loft. On each side were spirau candelabra holding amber voltive lights and entwined with smilax.

Banking the setting was emerald foliage. Candelabra holding amber voltive lights marked the bridal aisle, and the lights were also used in arrangements at the stained glass windows of the church.

Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, provided nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Bruce Winn, soloist, as she sang II Corinthians: 13, arranged by Harriet Ware, and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap.

For the wedding march, a processional by Guilmant was used and the recessional was by Marchant. During the exchange of wedding vows, a chorale from Baronchelli was softly played.

The bridal veil was an heirloom of Rosepoint lace worn by the bride's mother at her own wedding. The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of ivory roses surrounded by lilies-of-the-valley and their natural foliage. Accenting the bouquet were small leaves fashioned from ivory lace and strands of pearls.

Attendants to the bride, given in marriage by her father, were Nancy Bivens of Amarillo, Phyllis Coffee of Corpus Christi, Ann Hamilton of El Dorado, Ark., Patricia Herad of Houston, who was maid of honor, and Mrs. Gerald Dietz of Canyon, matron of honor. All were attired identically in romance blue sheaths designed with flared overskirts, rounded necklines and short sleeves. They wore matching satin shoes and head bands and carried identical arrangements of Talisman roses.

Best man was Joe Clark of Austin, and groomsmen were Charles Neblett, brother of the bride, Russ Butler and Bob Smith, both of Austin, and Buck Bonner of Houston. Sharing the ushering duties were Richards Sanders of Dallas, Tommy Coopwood of Lockhart, Jim Cornette and George Dowlen, both of Canyon.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of lace and cutwork. At the end, the tiered wedding cake, decorated with pastel flowers, was served. A hand painted punch bowl was at the other end. In the center was the bride's bouquet flanked by candelabra.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a gray silk suit with matching gloves and bag and flame red shoes and scarf. Her hat was gray with a touch of red. She wore a small corsage of red roses.

A graduate of the University of Texas, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Mrs. Perkins had previously attended Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo.

At Lindenwood, she was a member, as well as secretary of the SCA, and a representative on the student council.

Employed in the instrumentation division of Convair Aeronautics in San Diego, the bridegroom received his B. S. and Master's degrees from the University of Texas, where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity and Phi Beta Kappa national honorary fraternity. He was on the varsity swimming team and was graduate representative to student government.

A rehearsal dinner was held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. C. R. Nester. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. J. M. Brian and Dr. Leta Boswell.

Mrs. O. Dale Smith of Amarillo was hostess Saturday morning at a brunch for the wedding party and out-of-town guests. Mrs. E. J. Cundiff, assisted by Mrs. Newton Harrell and Mrs. Ed Harrell, was hostess to a supper for out-of-town guests Saturday evening preceding the ceremony.

Yarnell-Jennings Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Jennings are now at home in Fort Worth after their return from Nassau in the Bahamas, where they vacationed following their recent marriage in Dallas.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Jennings, the former Lucy Mae Yarnell and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fremont H. Yarnell of Anadarko, Okla., was assistant professor of business at West Texas State College.

For the wedding, she chose a dress of rosepoint lace over taffeta. The molded bodice was encrusted with sequins and seed pearls.

A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, Mrs. Jennings has been active in many professional business education and secretarial groups and is now president of the West Texas Business Teachers Association.

The son of Mrs. Pearl Jennings of Muleshoe and E. C. Jennings of Amarillo, Mr. Jennings attended Texas Technological College and is a graduate of Woodard School of Photography.

Farm Tour Slated For Next Tuesday

A special farm tour designed to acquaint Randall County farmers with the conservation reserve section of the Soil Bank program will be held next Tuesday, according to John Brazzil, county agricultural agent.

The program, which will begin at 9 a. m. at the Randall County Farm Bureau building, 1710 Fifth Avenue, will last until mid-afternoon. After inspecting farms south of Canyon, the tour will return to Canyon for lunch before going to the northern and eastern parts of the county.

The tour will cover several farms that now operate under the soil bank program and have carried out recommended practices.

About 150 Randall County farmers either have conservation reserve contracts, or have made application to have a rate set on their land. Some new features of the program will be explained and the land owner's and tenant's obligations under a contract will be discussed.

The tour is being sponsored by the Randall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the Soil Conservation Service, the Board of Supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District and the Texas A&M College Extension service.

CANYON HAPPY

By VERN SANFORD

People in Texas are very migratory in their fishing habits.

Fishermen from West Texas quite often go into the eastern part of the state to do their fishing. Those from the north, south, east, and west frequently go fishing in the Gulf. Gulf fishermen go to the still-lake area. Those in the eastern portion of Texas try the other sections, for a change of pace.

A check of car tags around Texas' rivers, lakes and streams proves these facts to be true.

Editors of Texas newspapers learned long ago that their readers have varied interests . . . and that the outdoorsman is no exception.

That's why you will find articles on gulf fishing in the Panhandle newspapers, and still-lake fishing stories in the valley and gulf coast press.

All of which accounts for the many boats you see trailing Texas highways in every direction.

That's why this column, which deals with all phases of fishing, hunting and boating, appears in newspapers in all areas of the state. Not in all newspapers, of course, but in more than 200 weeklies and dailies in widely scattered sections of Texas.

It is indicative of great interest in the outdoors—and of the tremendous appeal that fishing, hunting and boating have in this great state of ours.

Light Tackle Grows Popular

Many fishermen in the past few years have been weaned away from stiff casting rods and conventional reels and have turned to spin-fishing with light tackle.

They are finding much more fun. If you want still more enjoyment, try fishing with a fly rod.

Make up your mind first which you want, pan fish or bass. Of course in fishing for either you will very likely come up with the other. But that is one of the many surprises of fishing.

Our first choice is the popping bug—for bass. These bugs are made by most of the major manufacturers. They are just about the size of your thumb. A neat little bauble with multi-colored hackle.

Personally we use a 7½ foot Montague glass rod and an Ocean City No. 90 reel. Most other fishermen we know use 8 or 8½ foot rods. Some use automatic reels, while others use just plain fly reels.

We use a six foot leader on a shooting head, tapered Cortland line. The idea is to put that popping bug up close to the bank, near a brush pile, or beneath trees where insects or plant life may be falling into the water, or a spot where the flies are working.

Let it rest there a few seconds, then give it a mighty pop. Retrieve it a foot or two and let it rest again—if it does.

If you want just pan fish, use smaller flies. Occasionally you'll get a bass, but you really can sack up the bream and sometimes crappie.

Try it!

Can Fish Hear—See—Smell?

Much has been written about the ability of fish to hear, see and smell. And, the topic is one that provokes considerable discussion among fishermen.

In a very concise statement on the subject, an out-of-state zoologist says that fish are quite capable of detecting noises. Also they spot movement easily. But their eyes don't seem to pick up details readily. However, their sense of smell is acute.

Finally, he says, "Fish not only have taste buds in their mouths, but on much of the exterior of their bodies."

Standing on a dock in Lake Travis late one recent afternoon we saw several pound-size black bass surface to feed on food particles that had collected on the oil drums that supported the dock. We got almost within touching distance of them and still didn't scare them away. Perhaps they were so intent on feeding that our presence didn't matter. Or maybe they just couldn't see us. If they saw us they certainly didn't scare. On the other hand a loud noise that vibrated through the water did cause them to dive deep.

Anyway, the zoologist's claim that fish have taste buds on much of the exterior of their bodies is a new one to us. Had you heard that before?

To Keep Minnows Alive

Have trouble keeping your minnows alive until you reach the old fishing hole and can drop your minnow bucket into the water? Well, here's a trick that may help.

Next time you buy your minnows ask the minnow man to give you a tray full of ice from his refrigerator. Drop about five squares of the ice into the minnow bucket. It will keep the water cool and also help preserve the life of your minnows with the oxygen it adds to the water.

Lay the remaining pieces of ice on top of the minnow bucket. As that ice melts it will drip inside and serve to keep the temperature of the water down.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The New European Common Market

Sometime back I mentioned a few aspects of the proposed European Economic Community. As this approaches reality, I feel that it is important for the people of this country to understand just what is taking place; therefore, I will attempt to point out a few of the highlights of this proposal in this newsletter.

This Community is composed of six signers of a treaty, to wit, Western Germany, France, Belgium, Luxemburg, The Netherlands and Italy. The primary purpose of the movement is to create a closer economic integration in Western Europe.

The feeling is that if there can be a successful economic integration between these countries, it will result as a matter of course in a better political integration. As among the six member countries, there is intended to be created a market and trade operation similar to commerce between the states in the United States. The operation is to include the movements of goods, services, manpower or investment of capital.

It is contemplated that this will result in a competitive situation within the member countries that will provide concentration of productive power in those areas peculiarly adapted to particular products, and thereby increase efficiency in production. This will, in turn, enable the European Economic Community as a whole to have a most effective weapon in general competition for world trade.

The free movement of manpower between the countries is expected to answer labor shortages without difficulty.

It should be noted at this point that there are several countries in Europe and the Scandinavian area not members of the Common Market Treaty. These include the United Kingdom, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria and Switzerland. These countries have been negotiating to create a Free Trade Area which would include the Common Market countries.

These other countries realize the potential of the common market theory as benefiting Europe, but because of commitments and other situations in which they are involved, they find themselves unable to participate in the entire Common Market program and to become members of the European Economic Community, as such. It is generally felt in Europe that a free trade area will be established in keeping with the general thinking of the common market theory.

The big question concerns what will happen to U. S. business as a consequence of these proposed programs in Europe. Of course, it would be impossible to answer that question as the matter presently stands. However, there are certain facts that must be realized:

(1) The six member nations of the EEC had a gross national product of about 40 per cent of that in the U. S. in 1956. In that same year the 12 nations negotiating for the free trade area produced goods and services equal to about two-thirds of the U. S. total.

(2) Although Europe is the largest market for U. S. exports, it conducts one-third of the world's trade. It imports one-half of U. S. exports of food and tobacco, textile fibers, fuels and petroleum products, and about one-fifth of our machinery exports.

(3) This same Western Europe exports into the world market one and one-half times the exports of the U. S. into the world market. The U. S. exports to Europe consist mostly of raw materials and semi-finished goods. U. S. exports to other areas of the world are mostly manufactured goods. It is important to note that manufactured goods also make up most of Western Europe's exports to other areas.

This creates the following type of problem for the United States to consider. Although Western Europe, under the EEC program, could become a much greater market for some U. S. exporters, those engaged in exporting manufactured products may find much stiffer European competition, both in the European markets and in other world markets.

It has been suggested that this threat might cause many U. S. businesses to set up subsidiaries in Europe or to work out licensing operations so that their products could be manufactured by European manufacturers.

The cheap labor in Europe would certainly pose a serious threat to U. S. manufacturers. This has been one of the major bones of contention in the bitter controversies over the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, as well as the activities of the Tariff Commission with relation to imports.

During the debate in the Congress on the Reciprocal Trade Bill, the attention of the Members was called to numerous articles, from Europe and many other places in the world, manufactured in competition with such articles in this country. The differential in price was great, some foreign products being 200 to 300 per cent cheaper.

There is no doubt but that the countries in Europe are moving into the operation contemplated by the common market theory, for the purpose of stabilizing their own economy and strengthening their several countries. However, it would be well for this country to watch these operations daily as they progress to the end that our business in this country will not be unduly jeopardized.

It must be remembered that many of the factories and business concerns in those countries were set up by the use of foreign aid funds furnished out of the pockets of the taxpayers of this country. As I warned previously, the European Economic Community is an excellent approach to the solution of a tragic problem in Europe, but we in this country must watch its development with great vigilance.

Hildreth Gives Preserve Recipe

Because of the abundance of peaches this year, Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth has been deluged with requests for recipes for preserves.

Her recommended recipe is one pound of prepared peaches for each three-quarters to one pound of sugar. Any variety of white or yellow peach of good dessert quality at the firm ripe stage may be used.

Wash and pare the peaches. Leave whole or cut into uniform pieces. Combine the sugar and fruit in alternate layers. Let stand eight to ten hours or overnight before cooking, or add the sugar and one-fourth cup water for each pound of fruit and cook at once.

In either case, stir carefully while heating to boiling. Cook until the syrup is somewhat thick, stirring occasionally to prevent burning.

Fill hot sterilized jars three-fourths full with the preserved fruit. If paraffin is to be used, add enough syrup to fill the jar to one-fourth inch from the top; otherwise, fill to top of jar.

Seal, label and store.

Relative Dies In Wizard Wells

The Rev. J. C. Boyce of Wizard Wells, a relative of several Canyon residents, died Sept. 15 in Wizard Wells. Services were held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Nazarene Church at Wizard Wells, where he served as pastor.

He was a brother of Mrs. Mary Boyce and Mrs. J. W. Hennington and an uncle of Mrs. Norman Glenn and Jim Boyce.

SUMMER IS GONE

It's hard to believe that summer is gone. I've seen a few die-hards still carrying baseball equipment. Like me, I guess they hate to see our long summer days slip into oblivion to be replaced by shorter days and cooler evenings. The football fans seem to be welcoming the change though. You'll find them on most every street corner or drug store replaying last Friday's game or telling of "how I'd handle that team in next week's game."

So make plans now to put away your summer clothes and shake the mothballs out of the winter suits. Summer's going fast; King Football is here to hasten it on its way.

PRESCRIPTION FOR PLEASURE

The telephone by your side can be pretty good medicine —all by itself.

It's one of the best cures for loneliness. I'm thinking especially, of those long distance calls to talk to loved ones and old friends away from home.

And how about those easy going conversations women enjoy during the day? When you're tired of looking at the ironing board, or when the mop starts to get a little heavy, a short "telephone break" — just a few minutes chat with a friend or neighbor — really brings you back smiling.

Your telephone is more than just a convenience. There is plenty of pleasure and relaxation built into it, too. So use it as often as the mood strikes you. That's what it's there for . . .

Up-To-Date Idea About Telephones

Where is the telephone in your home? Is it where you can always reach it easily when it rings — or when you want to make a call?

Or is it in a central hall or in the middle of the house —not really close to any place where members of your family are when they want to use it?

Families with modern telephone service like to have phones in color in the kitchen, living room, and bedrooms.

With your home equipped with handy extension telephones, you can "reach" rather than "run" for the phone.

Why not order more telephones for your home today? You'll find the cost of extensions will add very little to what you now pay, but will add a great deal to your comfort and convenience.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Perryton - -

The Rangers drove to the seven, only to lose the ball on a fumble. On fourth down, Richardson kicked to the Canyon 46 for the Eagles, and Perryton made up for losing the ball.

Ronnie Shaffer ran 13 yards on the first play, and the drive was settled. It took seven plays to gain the 46 yards to the goal. James Lollis made the score on a five-yard run when 2:27 was left in the third quarter.

The Eagles took the kickoff and moved from the Canyon 41 to the Perryton 18 before losing the ball on downs just as the quarter ended. The Rangers moved the ball out to the 35, but lost back to the 20 on a holding penalty and then to the 10 when the Eagles caught the quarterback for a loss. He kicked on fourth down to the 35, out of bounds.

Canyon's chance came then. Brotherton lost two yards on a run, and Richardson ran 10 more for a first down on the 18.

Tommy Henderson picked up another first down on a 14-yard run to the four. Richardson tried a pass, then Henderson was thrown for a two-yard loss. On third down, Richardson tossed to Brotherton for the score. The Eagles tried a pass for the extra points, but it was no good as the clock showed 6:26 left in the game.

Fired up again, Perryton took the kickoff on their own 24 and ran back to the 40. A series of two first downs to the Canyon 38 set up a 21-yard run by Ellzey to the seven. He bucked to the one, then across the goal line for the final touchdown when 3:12 was left to play. Shaffer's point attempt was no good.

Statistics of the game were:

| Canyon | | Perryton |
|---|---|---|
| 6 | First Downs | 28 |
| 98 | Rushing Yards | 349 |
| 17 | Passing Yards | 28 |
| 13 | Passes Tried | 6 |
